VOLUME XLI

CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 16, 1919

NUMBER XXXVII

GOOD ROAD MATTER MOST IMPORTANT

Commercial Club Directors Consider Various Projects Which Increase Improved Highways.

A most interesting meeting of the directors of the Cameron Commercial Club was held last Friday night. A project to widen the public road leading to Cameron, known as the Clarkson road, which has been under way was reported on by Chairman W. W. Goodwin of a committee appointed to investigate same. Mr. Goodwin reported that every land owner with one exception, had signed an agreement to donate enough land to widen the road to 50 feet, provided the county would grade same and put it in first-class condition. This road is a valuable one and will doubtless be put in good condition in the near future.

The road committee reported that the citizenship of Buckholts were about ready for a bond issue to pike a strip of about six miles of road leading from the town of Ad Hall, in Milam county, to the county line of Bell county, near Rogers. This road is a connecting road between the two Meridian Highways that traverse the state, and County Auditor Giles Avriett reported that the State Highway department would pay one fourth as much to building this road as the county would spend. This feature, it is thought, will lend encouragement to the Buckholts citizens in voting on the special tax. Plans are being made to vote a bond issue to build a road from the Big Elm creek in Milam county through to the Bell county line, and representatives of this community attended the meeting of the directors, asking that aid be given by the club. A general meeting will be held at the North Elm school house on Tuesday night of this week and the following committee was appointed from the club to attend and lend encouragement: Giles Avriett, chairman; W. W. Chambers, J. T. Parma, W. G. Gillis and T. N. Herring.

Since the organization of the Commercial Club in Cameron almost a year ago the meetings have been held in the district court room, and at the meeting last night the matter of moving headquarters into a home of its own was brought up. The matter was discussed fully and a committee appointed to investigate one or more proposed halls that can be rented, and in all probability it will be only a short time until the club will be quartered in its own home.

The matter of arranging for a regular clean-up day in Cameron was brought before the meeting. The ladies of the Civic League of Cameron having formerly had this matter in hand. The president ordered that the club take the matter up with the city council and make some definite arrangements whereby the city will be rid of all rubbish, cans, etc., that regular days will be set for the work and that same be done systematically.

County Chairman W. G. Gillis of the Fourth Liberty Loan drive reported that he had attended a meeting in Dallas called by the Federal Reserve Bank, at which the plans for another loan were discussed. Judge Gillis gave a brief outline of what the fifth loan was to cover, saying that it was an honor debt that our country had to pay. The loan, Judge Gillis said, would be in the neighborhood of the fourth loan in amount, possibly more, but not anything less.

ROAD BOND ISSUE AT JONES PRAIRIE

If plans now under way at Jones Prairie work out as intended that community will soon have roads of the good kind for several miles around them. They are contemplating the issuance of $25,000 worth of bonds, according to information received last Tuesday from County Judge W. G. Gillis. The citizens of that precinct have taken the initial step and already have a petition ready to present to the commissioners' court at its next session.

Plans are to issue bonds to the amount of $25,000, each bond to be amount of $25,000, each bond to be each year. Provided the bonds are

NEWS OF PEACE WAS DRAMATIC

Mud Stained Heroes At Front Watch- ed Hands of Clock Slowly Tick off Minutes.

A vivid account of the last moments of the greatest war in history is given below by a soldier who was in the thick of battle:

"The cessation of hostilities came with a dramatic and startling suddenness on the American front at 11 o'clock. The American artillery men were competing among themselves for the honor of firing the last shot, and the Germans were apparently engaged in the same rivalry. One gun would fire; there would be a silence then the scream of another shell would pass over the heads of the soldiers still moving on. The hands on the watches seemed, to the officers, to move with tantalizing slowness. Many asked themselves if the hour of 11 would ever come. One minute separated many men from death or a ghastly wound. At last the hands ticked off the remaining minute and there fell upon the shell-swept hill a sudden and mysterious silence.

"The fury of the war had ceased; rifles were laid down; machine guns ceased to eat up their deadly tapes and guns, hot with firing, cooled off. Nothing more tense, nothing more pleasurable for the men in the advancing line could be imagined. Nothing but mud, cheerless and cold, surrounded them when the order that brought the cessation of firing was given.

"Many of the men refused to believe that the armistice had been signed, for many had been cut off from the outside world for days, even months. When it was realized, however, that death was not awaiting the man who attempted to advance, that the shells would no longer seek their victims, and that all the anxieties of war were to give place to only its discomforts, the men immediately lit fires and settled down to enjoy what they still think is only a brief holiday, so unbelievable is the news."

NEW YORK STRIKERS YIELD TO WILSON

President Cabled Request That Controversy be Placed in Hands of War Labor Board.

New York, Jan. 11.—The marine workers, whose strike tied up the port of New York for three days, voted Saturday night to return to work as soon as possible, in compliance with the cabled request of President Wilson, according to an announcement by Stephen J. Condon, secretary of the Marine Workers' affiliation.

Mr. Condon also stated that the strike committee had ordered word be sent immediately to all members of the affiliation that as many as possible should return to work. He added that the committee had agreed to leave the whole controversy for settlement by the national war labor board.

P. O. ADAMS HAS DELIGHTFUL TRIP NORTH

P. O. Adams of this city returned last Saturday evening from a business trip to Cleveland, Ohio, and Elyria, Ohio, where he was in consultation and feasting with the Standard Knitting Company and the Fay Stocking Company representatives. Mr. Adams trip lasted for eight days. He reports a very enjoyable visit with several big feasts on the side.

issued it is announced that the main strip of road for improvement is the Cameron-Jones Prairie road between C. A. Baker's corner and Jones Prairie, and on the Jones Prairie-Calvert road to the Burkhalter place.

LIEUT. THOMAS S. HENDERSON

Thomas S. Henderson, Jr., son of Hon. and Mrs. T. S. Henderson is another of our Cameron boys in the service of Uncle Sam. Before entering the army Tom was a member of the law firm of Henderson, Kidd & Henderson.

When war was declared Tom volunteered in several branches of the service, but was unsuccessful in his attempts. Finally he was taken in the draft and in October 1917 he was sent to Camp Travis, where he was made corporal almost immediately.

Before he went to Camp Travis he had signed up for the aviation branch of the army, and in December he was transferred to this branch and sent to Kelly Field No. 1 as a private in aviation. Here he attended an officers training school and one month before graduation was sent to Columbus, Ohio, to an aviation school for adjutants. He graduated from this school as second lieutenant and was sent to Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich. Here he was supply officer for the 40th squadron. Tom has been in Selfridge since February. Here he has helped to train men for overseas service. Squadron after squadron has gone over, each time Tom has hoped to be allowed to go with them, but he was kept to train others. At present he is with squadron D. He has been taking a course in aerial gunnery, and hopes to qualify as an observer. He is editor of the field paper known as "Stoppages and Jams." He has just gotten out a holiday edition of this paper which is the first of its kind among the camps.

His recommendation as first lieutenant went in too late to be acted upon before the signing of the armistice. Tom has lately joined the regular army.

WOMEN! WOMEN! PAY YOUR POLL TAX

Be a Full-Fledged American Citizen With the Right and Privilege This Act Bestows.

Women of Milam county are urged to cast aside their air of reticence, rake up two dollars and seventy-five cents, and hunt up the tax collector immediately, lest by their own neglect they are denied the privilege to the vote they have secured. The reason for the appeal is that no poll tax receipt written after midnight on January 31, will be legal, or, in other words, the woman who waits until after midnight, January 31, to pay that $2.75 will simply be "out of luck." Up to the present, it is announced, very few women of this county have paid their poll taxes.

The entrance to the political arena has been opened to women, and she is free to step in to take her seat alongside those of the stronger sex who have held exclusive sway at the polls for time immemorial. Although 1919 is not an election year, yet the women of Texas may this year be given a voice in the settlement of questions of vast importance. In case the woman's suffrage amendment is adopted by the legislature early in its session, there is no doubt that the women of Texas will vote on the prohibition amendment later in the year. To vote on that question alone will be worth far more than the amount of the tax. In addition, it is reminded, a poll tax paid helps the schools of our state, for one dollar of each poll goes into the state school fund.

Furthermore, it is reminded that the women should show the citizenship of Texas that they really want the ballot by taking active interest in the government and voting, for should the incapable vote while the more capable of women neglect to cast a ballot, the result on any important question would be highly detrimental to our government. Do not delay. Pay that poll tax now.

ROBERT MCLANE JR. RETURNS TO U. S. A.

Eighteen Months Service In France Seen By Son of Milam County—Twice Gassed.

Robert McLane, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McLane who live near Ben Arnold, arrived in Hoboken, N. J., on January 1st, after eighteen months service in France. He is well known to all the Cameron people, and has many relatives living in and around the city.

Young McLane volunteered his services to his country on April 3rd, 1917, three days before the United States entered the war. He was accepted and kept in San Antonio for training. At the end of a month Pershing in France called for men to join him. In San Antonio they called for volunteers—fifty were needed from this camp and Robert was the first of the fifty to say "I'll go."

After a fourteen day trip he landed June 27th in St. Nazaire, France, and after three months training on French soil he was sent to the front, where for twenty-eight days he was in the midst of severe fighting. During the battle he was gassed and had to return to camp.

In February he was again sent to the front and again gassed. Several months he spent in various hospitals. He was not able to go back to his division for a time and was made mail clerk in the camp. He begged to be allowed to go with the boys to Berlin and thought for a while he would go. But instead he was given his trip home.

This young hero come over on the Northern Pacific, the boat that was stranded off Fire Island, near New York. He writes from a camp in Pennsylvania that he will be home soon.

PAY AUTO TAX BY END OF JANUARY

After This Date 25 Per Cent Penalty Is Effective—Collector Urges Action.

In a conversation held by a representative of The Herald Monday of this week with County Tax Collector Bill Alex Bonds, he gave us the following outline regarding the payment of the special tax recently levied on automobiles. Mr. Bonds is very anxious that every one who operates a car this year, do so at the least expense, so far as taxes is concerned, and the following interview will suffice for all the information car owners need have regarding same:

"Have you paid your motor vehicle license? You have until January 31 in which to pay, and if you fail by that time you will be assessed a 25 per cent penalty. Besides, if you do not have your 1919 license by the end of the month you are liable to be arrested, and if convicted will have to pay a fine. It is likely to be hard rowing, indeed.

Fee According to Horse Power.

The fee charged by the state highway commission is based on the horse power, and the cheapest you can get off is $7.50. Cars ranging from 1 to 21 horse power take this license. The schedule of fees is as follows:

H. P.	Fee
1-21	$ 7.50
22	7.70
23	8.05
24	8.40
25	8.75
26	9.10
27	9.45
28	9.80
29	10.15
30	10.50
31	10.85
32	11.20
33	11.55
34	11.90
35	12.25
36	12.60
37	12.95
38	13.30
39	13.65
40	14.00
41	14.35
42	14.70
43	15.05
44	15.40
45	15.75
46	16.10
47	16.45
48	16.80
49	17.15
50	17.50

The above figures represent the full fee for the year 1919. If you are not a car owner now, but purchase one during the year, you will pay according to the quarter in which it happens to be bought. The lowest fee for the second quarter of the year is $5.64; for the third quarter, $3.75; and for the last quarter, $1.88. The highest fee for the second quarter is $13.14; for the third quarter, $8.75, and for the last quarter, $4.38.

Under the law as amended, all motor vehicle licenses are paid at the office of the county tax collector. In making your application you are to give the name and model of the car, the engine number (motor number) and the state highway number, the last named being the number which the traffic cop takes when he thinks you are speeding.

The seal which is given by the collector when the license is paid contains a number, which is kept on record and may be used to identify the car if stolen. The state highway commission is making it increasingly hard to steal automobiles and get away with them. If the seal is gone the officer has a right to inquire into the facts, and if the seal is on there is the fatal number. Besides there are the motor numbers and the license numbers and other numbers kept on record to check up against the thief.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Hot debate held in Senate over operation of American troops in Russia. Half dozen senators speak several hours, some defending, others critising the sending of American troops into Russia.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Theodore Roosevelt's will is read to family in former president's home here today. Roosevelt's estate is understood to amount to approximately $500,000.

Warsaw, Jan. 8.—Russian bolsheviks capture city of Vilna from Poles and start merciless massacre of inhabitants.

PAY AUTO TAX BY END OF JANUARY

After This Date 25 Per Cent Penalty Is Effective—Collector Urges Action.

In a conversation held by a representative of The Herald Monday of this week with County Tax Collector Bill Alex Bonds, he gave us the following outline regarding the payment of the special tax recently levied on automobiles. Mr. Bonds is very anxious that every one who operates a car this year, do so at the least expense, so far as taxes is concerned, and the following interview will suffice for all the information car owners need have regarding same:

"Have you paid your motor vehicle license? You have until January 31 in which to pay, and if you fail by that time you will be assessed a 25 per cent penalty. Besides, if you do not have your 1919 license by the end of the month you are liable to be arrested, and if convicted will have to pay a fine. It is likely to be hard rowing, indeed.

Fee According to Horse Power.

The fee charged by the state highway commission is based on the horse power, and the cheapest you can get off is $7.50. Cars ranging from 1 to 21 horse power take this license. The schedule of fees is as follows:

H. P.	Fee
1-21	$ 7.50
22	7.70
23	8.05
24	8.40
25	8.75
26	9.10
27	9.45
28	9.80
29	10.15
30	10.50
31	10.85
32	11.20
33	11.55
34	11.90
35	12.25
36	12.60
37	12.95
38	13.30
39	13.65
40	14.00
41	14.35
42	14.70
43	15.05
44	15.40
45	15.75
46	16.10
47	16.45
48	16.80
49	17.15
50	17.50

The above figures represent the full fee for the year 1919. If you are not a car owner now, but purchase one during the year, you will pay according to the quarter in which it happens to be bought. The lowest fee for the second quarter of the year is $5.64; for the third quarter, $3.75; and for the last quarter, $1.88. The highest fee for the second quarter is $13.14; for the third quarter, $8.75, and for the last quarter, $4.38.

Under the law as amended, all motor vehicle licenses are paid at the office of the county tax collector. In making your application you are to give the name and model of the car, the engine number (motor number) and the state highway number, the last named being the number which the traffic cop takes when he thinks you are speeding.

The seal which is given by the collector when the license is paid contains a number, which is kept on record and may be used to identify the car if stolen. The state highway commission is making it increasingly hard to steal automobiles and get away with them. If the seal is gone the officer has a right to inquire into the facts, and if the seal is on there is the fatal number. Besides there are the motor numbers and the license numbers and other numbers kept on record to check up against the thief."

Delay Brings Punishment.

Paris, Jan. 13.—Delay of the Germans in complying with armistice terms of allies is understood to be bringing punishment to Germans by allies. Food suggests that foe ports be occupied.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Attorney General Gregory resigns. Resignation accepted and to take effect on March 4.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Opening of Fifth Liberty Loan Campaign on April 6th, 1919, is being contemplated by officials at the capitol, but no decision has yet been reached.

Austin, Jan. 13.—Thirty-Sixth Legislature opens on Tuesday. Ralph Soape to serve as secretary pro tem of the Senate.

London, Jan. 12.—Heavy fighting resumed in Berlin. Spartan losses since outbreak of revolution estimated at 1,300 killed.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Hot debate held in Senate over operation of American troops in Russia. Half dozen senators speak several hours, some defending, others critising the sending of American troops into Russia.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Theodore Roosevelt's will is read to family in former president's home here today. Roosevelt's estate is understood to amount to approximately $500,000.

Here's What The People Say About

TANLAC

"I just feel like going from house to house and telling the people about Tanlac."—A. J. Livingston, Ashland City, Tenn.

"This is really the first medicine I have ever taken that does what they say it will do."—J. F. Holley, LeLxLiLnLgLoLlLnLlLlLlLl, Lexington, Ky.

"I would not take one thousand dollars for what this wonderful medicine, Tanlac, has done for me."—Mrs. Mattie Lutes, Lexington, Ky.

"We have sold 1,180 bottles of Tanlac and have never had a dissatisfied customer."—Smiser Drug Co., Columbia, Tenn.

"For two years before taking Tanlac I had rheumatism so bad I couldn't raise my left hand to my head. I now feel like a new man."—J. B. Woodward, Lexington, Ky.

"I feel so good after taking Tanlac that I told my hands the other day I believed I could beat any of them shucking corn. I meant it and believe I could have beat 'em all."—J. A. White, R. F. D., Lexington, Ky.

"In my thirty years of active practice as a physician I have never seen anything to equal Tanlac as a medicine to produce results."—Dr. J. T. Edwards, Fayetteville, Ga.

"This medicine is worth its weight in gold, and if the price was fifty dollars a bottle instead of one dollar I would buy it just the same if I had the money."—Knoxville, Tenn.

"Four bottles of Tanlac helped me more than fifteen years of medical treatment that cost me an average of $100 a year."—E. B. Hall, Fountain City, Tenn.

"Money couldn't buy the good this Tanlac has done for me."—Ex-Sheriff Archie Anderson, Houston, Texas.

"Tanlac has certainly helped me and I recommend it to others for the good it has done me."—Ex-Sheriff C. W. Mangum, Atlanta, Ga.

"I would spend the last dollar I had on earth for Tanlac; I have gained nine and a half pounds on one bottle and feel just like a new man."—J. T. Andrews.

"If the people of this town only knew the good Tanlac did me you wouldn't be able to supply the demand."—Mrs. Mattie C. Bond, Memphis, Tenn.

"Yes sir, I gained twenty-five pounds by taking Tanlac, and it has been a long time since I felt as well as I do now."—Capt. Jeff D. Riggs, Vicksburg, Miss.

How Savings Grow.

(From the Thrift Magazine.)

Ten dollars a month saved and put at 4 per cent compounded interest will show an accumulation of $1475 in 10 years; $7.50 a month will show $1106; $6 a month will show $885; $5 a month will show $737; $4.50 a month will show $663; $4 a month will show $589; $3 a month will show $442; and $2.50 a month will show $3.68.

Any sum saved and invested at 4 per cent compound interest will more than double itself in 20 years. Save $10. At the end of the first year you will have $10.40; in five years you will have $12.70. At the end of the tenth year your interest will have grown to $6.20 and at the end of the twentieth year your interest will be $10.70, or more than double your original sum. Carried along on the same basis $100 will become $207 and $1000 will grow to $2070.

Save 10 cents a day and in 10 years your daily savings will be $365, in addition to $80.30 compound interest, making a total of $445.36.

Feeding Europe.

The $100,000,000 which President Wilson has asked congress to appropriate for the relief of the people in the recently liberated areas in Europe looks large in the aggregate, but it is less than $1 per capita from the American people and it is considerably less than $1 per capita for the 127,000,000 victims of war who have been found to be in immediate need of food. If the sum is, after all, small in proportion to the need, if supplied at the critical time, it will prevent wholesale starvation.

The request of President Wilson and the statement of Mr. Hoover constitute an appeal to America that can not be ignored for two reasons, the one unselfish, the other selfish. The United States has never turned a deaf ear to the cry of distress in any country. The charitable impulses of its people have in the past been felt to the ends of the earth. It has never even waged a war that, including the last, was not in the interest or freedom and humanity against oppression in some form. The last war was rather the most notable example of this record, than an exception to it. To give relief to those who have been so shortly liberated that they have not had time to care for themselves, is a task only incidental to the main one which drew us into the war. If we should quit now, we would be failing to complete the job.

Aside from the appeal to our charity, self interest directs that America do its best to afford relief to a people among whom chaos reigns and who are the choicest victims of bolshevism. Mr. Hoover clearly intimates the danger that lurks from this source as long as there are hungry millions in Europe. A repetition of events in Russia is the recently liberated sections can not be contemplated in America without a shudder. A failure to send food and clothing and other necessities to a people verging on desperation might necessitate fighting the war over again. The Lenines and Trozskys of all countries are as dangerous to democratic institutions and a greater menace to orderly government than were the czars and the kaisers.

If the spread of bolshevism can be prevented by an act which common charity dictates should be performed, it would be a crime not to render that service. And if the red terror can be checked with several times what the president has asked for, the United States and its allies will be "getting off cheap."—Houston Post.

"For Freedom and Ideal of Manhood"

The United States Navy in seven wars has not only come up to the highest expectation of the nation, but has always surpassed expectation.

The army has sometimes been a little slow in "finding itself," a habit of all democracies, perhaps.

But in this war the army as well as the navy surpassed all expectation by the celerity and power of its organization and the brilliancy of its fighting.

French papers are filled with praise of the conduct of American soldiers and sailors. They seem to have lived up to the high standard set by Rear Admiral Wilson in the following address to the men about to go on shore leave at Brest:

"We are guests in the house of another people. Our home will be judged by our conduct in theirs. We still live under the rules, laws and spirit of the place from which we come.

"Every great nation in history has stood for some one definite ideal: Greece for beauty, Rome for law, Israel for religion. America, in the eyes of the world, stands pre-eminently for freedom and the ideal of manhood. We must not shake that opinion, but do all that we can to strengthen it.

"We have come to this side of the world to record, by the indelible imprint of arms, our protest against that which is brutal, wicked and unjust.

"Our nation stands for everything that is contrary to the spirit of arrogance, power and tyranny. Let us prove that by our lives here.

"The only history of America that many of the people of Europe will ever read is that which is recorded by our lives.

"Live here the proud, manly existence that is justly expected.

"Be courteous, temperate and self-controlled."

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a result there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILDS TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or disperse the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

To Wall Paper Buyers:

Our new stock of wall paper is in and ready for your inspection and we state without fear of contradiction that we offer the most complete assortment and at the most reasonable prices that has been offered you during our 27 years in Cameron.

We purchased from a wholesale jobber a job lot of paper at a substantial discount and if you are interested in wall paper see our line.

A great many people order wall paper out of town in room lots, thinking they can save money, when in reality the express charges on an average room will amount to half the price of the paper.

Henry P. Davidson, Chairman of War Council Describes Work of Organization.

America—the land of the free and home of the brave! The sentiment overwhelmed me a few weeks ago as, from the deck of an ocean liner, I viewed my native land for the first time in three months, and I could not help adding—"and the generous." Many times I have come up New York Bay on a return trip from Europe and been thrilled by the figure Liberty and the sky line of the great city, but never before have I felt so profoundly grateful that I was one of Uncle Sam's hundred million children. I was returning from an inspection of the activities of the American Red Cross in France, England, Belgium, Italy and Switzerland, activities made possible only by the great generosity of the American people.

I could not help comparing the smiling land of plenty that lay before me with the desolation that met me at every turn in the war zones, but recollection of how America had shared its plenty with the unfortunate peoples of Europe filled me with a pride that must be common to us all.

American fighting men turned the tide of battle in favor of the forces fighting for freedom and justice, and those Americans who were not privileged to face the foe helped just as effectively by unfaltering support of the Red Cross to rout the forces of despair in many of the war-stricken countries.

With peace assured and with the governments of the foreign countries where it has been operating anxious to relieve the organization of its burdens, the men and women of America are naturally curious as to the future of their Red Cross.

It is too early as yet to speak with any degree of definiteness of the future work of the organization. With a large part of the world upside down and the readjustment plans of nations still in process of formation the Red Cross will look forward to the time when it will be called upon to perform new work in the period of the world's rehabilitation.

What The American People Have Done for Red Cross Work.

They have given $313,000,000 outright.

They contributed manufactured goods worth $44,000,000.

What the Red Cross Organization Has Done.

It has conducted relief work in France, Great Britain, Armenia, Syria, Belgium, Switzerland, Palestine, Roumania, Canada, Poland and Portugal.

It has supported its organization almost entirely through memberships so that practically every dollar subscribed for relief has been spent for relief.

It has had over 8,000,000 workers. Workers in its name have produced over 291,000,000 articles necessary to its labors.

STARTLING REPORT ON WINTER RAINS

Local Weather Bureau Report Shows A Total of 16.60 Inches Rain Since October 1.

To everyone who is interested in the rainfall in Cameron and surrounding territory The Herald has for you each week some valuable information. The local weather observer, T. N. Herring, has in his possession the record on the rainfall and temperature for the past 18 years and is now keeping same for the future. Each week we run a tabulated report of the temperature for the week previous, also a comparison to the year before. There is also included in this report the figures on the rainfall.

This week we will give you under this head a startling report on the rainfall this winter as compared to last winter. The records show the season in the ground for the 1918 crop was, from October 1, 1917 to January 16th, 1918, rainfall 3.21. The season for the 1919 crop shows from October 1, 1918 to January 16, 1919, rainfall 16.60 inches.

AIRPLANE STICKS IN COLLIN COUNTY MUD

McKinney, Texas.—From time immemorial vehicles and animals have bogged in the black mud of Collin county, but last Monday was the first time citizens have seen an airplane stuck in the mud. The plane landed in the wheat field of C. E. Talkington, seven miles northwest of McKinney, Tuesday afternoon and was still stuck in the black mud Wednesday morning.

To Wall Paper Buyers:

Our new stock of wall paper is in and ready for your inspection and we state without fear of contradiction that we offer the most complete assortment and at the most reasonable prices that has been offered you during our 27 years in Cameron.

We purchased from a wholesale jobber a job lot of paper at a substantial discount and if you are interested in wall paper see our line.

A great many people order wall paper out of town in room lots, thinking they can save money, when in reality the express charges on an average room will amount to half the price of the paper.

Henry P. Davidson, Chairman of War Council Describes Work of Organization.

America—the land of the free and home of the brave! The sentiment overwhelmed me a few weeks ago as, from the deck of an ocean liner, I viewed my native land for the first time in three months, and I could not help adding—"and the generous." Many times I have come up New York Bay on a return trip from Europe and been thrilled by the figure Liberty and the sky line of the great city, but never before have I felt so profoundly grateful that I was one of Uncle Sam's hundred million children. I was returning from an inspection of the activities of the American Red Cross in France, England, Belgium, Italy and Switzerland, activities made possible only by the great generosity of the American people.

I could not help comparing the smiling land of plenty that lay before me with the desolation that met me at every turn in the war zones, but recollection of how America had shared its plenty with the unfortunate peoples of Europe filled me with a pride that must be common to us all.

American fighting men turned the tide of battle in favor of the forces fighting for freedom and justice, and those Americans who were not privileged to face the foe helped just as effectively by unfaltering support of the Red Cross to rout the forces of despair in many of the war-stricken countries.

With peace assured and with the governments of the foreign countries where it has been operating anxious to relieve the organization of its burdens, the men and women of America are naturally curious as to the future of their Red Cross.

It is too early as yet to speak with any degree of definiteness of the future work of the organization. With a large part of the world upside down and the readjustment plans of nations still in process of formation the Red Cross will look forward to the time when it will be called upon to perform new work in the period of the world's rehabilitation.

What The American People Have Done for Red Cross Work.

They have given $313,000,000 outright.

They contributed manufactured goods worth $44,000,000.

What the Red Cross Organization Has Done.

It has conducted relief work in France, Great Britain, Armenia, Syria, Belgium, Switzerland, Palestine, Roumania, Canada, Poland and Portugal.

It has supported its organization almost entirely through memberships so that practically every dollar subscribed for relief has been spent for relief.

It has had over 8,000,000 workers. Workers in its name have produced over 291,000,000 articles necessary to its labors.

Plows.

We have reduced last years prices on all plows and middle busters. Now is the time to buy.

At The Wonderland.

"Italy's Fiaming Front" will be shown at the Wonderland Theater, Tuesday, January 21st. This is an extraordinary picture and only the mountainous character of the country where the battle took place made it possible for the enlisted camera men hidden among the rocks to screen the close ups and panoramas of this real fighting which is shown in the picture. Among other things this picture reproduces an aerial fight, a naval battle and fierce land fighting. This is your chance to see real fighting such as our boys went through. You can see war's thrills without its horrors, for they are kept out.

Walter Thomas Enroute Home.

Information comes from Max Plaster, who just arrived in this city, that Walter Thomas, son of Mrs. Geo. A. Thomas of Cameron has received his discharge from the navy and is on his way home, and at present is making a short stop-over at New Orleans.

Standard Week At The High School. Next week is to be "Standard Week" at the Cameron Public Schools. Thursday will be visitors day. Teachers from all over the county have been invited to attend. Out of the county visitors will be Dr. Sackett of the State University and Prof. Clements of the Temple High School.

HENNE & MEYER TO RUN FAMOUS KNOTT CARTOONS

Henne & Meyer Company of this city has contracted with the Herald for a series of cartoon drawn by Knott the famous cartoonist of the Dallas News, which are to be run in The Herald during the year 1919.

The first cartoon of the series appears in this issue of The Herald in connection with the Henne & Meyer advertisement. These works of Knott will continue weekly.

Knott is a cartoonist of wide fame, being considered as one of the best in the United States. In every one of his works he portrays life and humor. His pen is smooth and his characters are impressive. Those who have noticed the works of Knott readily understand how he, with a few drawings and very few words, can drive a point "home" in a most forcible way. In the cartoon of today the trials and tribulations of dad trying to remedy an old, broken-down stove are depicted in a most admirable manner. These drawings are the valuable works of a master.

GOOD ATTRACTION AT WONDERLAND THEATER

Charlie Chaplin in "Shoulder Arms" and Fatty Arbuckle in "Camping Out" were the sources of side-splitting laughter for those attending the Wonderland Theater last Tuesday afternoon and night.

Charlie Chaplin's "Shoulder Arms" is now a world famed picture. He treats the most serious proposition of war in a most humorous fashion and has made from this subject a light, rip-roaring comedy. When confronted with a slice of "limberger" cheese Charlie instinctively grabs for his gas mask. He goes "over the top" with identification tag No. 13, and comes back with thirteen prisoners to his credit. Gun fire was nothing to him. He would stick his cigarette above the trench top to have it lighted by a passing bullet.

"Fatty" Arbuckle's comedy was also a scream. He goes through many hair-raising adventures, facing rolling pins, butcher knives, pistols and various other weapons of offense.

The shows were well attended and everybody came out smiling, in spite of the rain.

ARE YOU GUILTY?

A FARMER carrying an express package from a big mail order house was accosted by a local dealer.
"Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality."
The farmer looked at the merchant a moment and then said:
"Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read and didn't know that you had the stuff I have here."

His pen is smooth and his characters are impressive. Those who have noticed the works of Knott readily understand how he, with a few drawings and very few words, can drive a point "home" in a most forcible way. In the cartoon of today the trials and tribulations of dad trying to remedy an old, broken-down stove are depicted in a most admirable manner. These drawings are the valuable works of a master.

GOOD ATTRACTION AT WONDERLAND THEATER

Charlie Chaplin in "Shoulder Arms" and Fatty Arbuckle in "Camping Out" were the sources of side-splitting laughter for those attending the Wonderland Theater last Tuesday afternoon and night.

Charlie Chaplin's "Shoulder Arms" is now a world famed picture. He treats the most serious proposition of war in a most humorous fashion and has made from this subject a light, rip-roaring comedy. When confronted with a slice of "limberger" cheese Charlie instinctively grabs for his gas mask. He goes "over the top" with identification tag No. 13, and comes back with thirteen prisoners to his credit. Gun fire was nothing to him. He would stick his cigarette above the trench top to have it lighted by a passing bullet.

"Fatty" Arbuckle's comedy was also a scream. He goes through many hair-raising adventures, facing rolling pins, butcher knives, pistols and various other weapons of offense.

The shows were well attended and everybody came out smiling, in spite of the rain.

ARE YOU GUILTY?

A FARMER carrying an express package from a big mail-order house was accosted by a local dealer.

"Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality." The farmer looked at the merchant a moment and then said: "Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know that you had the stuff I have here."

Are you preparing for next winter? Are you going to wait, wait, wait and buy high-priced feed, the same as you are this winter? Think of this! prepare yourself. Cotton might be six cents next year. Raise feed for your stock, prepare to live at home. If you have fat cows, hogs, sheep and chickens you are independent. You can sell your cotton then at 6 or 20 cents—it is just the same; it is all profit. Make your living at home; have your cotton a side line, then you will change your bank account from red to black, from a note to a deposit slip. Now, this can be done with help of a Silo. The Indiana Silo Company furnishes you a road to prosperity; they have the low price and easy terms, so any one can own a Silo.

TERRELL REPORT URGES SIM- PLE LAW AND ECONOMY

(By J. S. Ainsworth in Austin Statesman.)

The several changes in Texas' existing laws, recently recommended by Comptroller H. B. Terrell, in his report to the Governor of Texas, the majority of which changes are in the interest of a more economical and less complex governmental system, have created attention over Texas to an extent that recommendations of a similar nature have seldom aroused.

Among the several sweeping departures suggested by the Comptroller is the one to separate State and county taxes, leaving the fixing of ad valorem taxes to the county and raising the State's revenue from occupation taxes, gross taxes, etc., and there are several other important recommendations. For instance, the Comptroller also suggests the creation of a board of control, a board of equalization, repeal of the statute creating the office of State Purchasing Agent, amendments to the State printing law, the State Highway commission law and others.

Legislature-Citizens Awakening

Not only have citizens from all parts of Texas been sending letters to Comptroller Terrell heartily endorsing at least the major portion of his recommendations, but members of the Legislature have sent similar missives, expressing the hope that the Comptroller's recommendations may assume concrete form in the way of bills and pass as laws during the Thirty-sixth Legislature.

Terrell is Consistent.

Mr. Terrell states in his report that he is of the opinion Texas has entirely too many employees. He requests the abolishment of five desks in his own office; also, he has allowed to revert to the State Treasury out of the sum appropriated for the maintenance of his department for the last fiscal year $18,358.53, or more than 15 per cent of the entire appropriation.

An Illustrative Letter.

On the Comptroller's desk are stacked letters from writers of letters who commend the recommendations he has made. Some of these writers are seekers of information, saying they understand the suggestions in a general way and approve them, but want more detailed information—which they are receiving. Still others endorse heartily the majority of the Comptroller's recommendations, while many of them endorse them in toto. Illustrative of the letters that are being received by Comptroller Terrell, the one appearing below will give an excellent idea of the commendations that are reaching his desk in each mail.

Legislator Has Bill Prepared.

"Sulphur Springs, Tex., Jan. 3, 1919. "H. B. Terrell, Austin, Texas:

"Dear Sir: I have just received your letter inclosing your recommendation to the Legislature for statutory laws. In the main I think they are proper and necessary. I have been studying on some of these questions for some time and have a bill prepared to amend article 7377 defining wholesale dealers in refined oil from petroleum. You know that this is the joker in the present law by which millions of dollars worth of oil have escaped taxation. The following is my amendment:

"A wholesale dealer, within the meaning of this article, is any individual, company or firm, partnership, corporation or association selling any coal oil, naphtha, benzine or any other mineral oils refined from petroleum, to be sold again."

"I want to ask you if you think this will cure the defect in the above article? If not, write me out an amendment."

"I am so glad to know that one of the most important officers of the State is willing to give the Legislature needed information for an economic government, and one who has set a precedent for economy for other officers to follow. I believe you are about the first man to turn back to the State that which was appropriated by the State. It would have been easy under a very small pretext for you to give your old friend and desk-mate a job. But I am glad to know that you have economized for the best interest of the State."

"With high personal regards, I am yours truly, R. E. BERTRAM, "Representative 34th District."

One paragraph of Comptroller Terrell's report is especially suggestive of the great industrial changes that have taken place in Texas in recent years. In recommending the amendment of Article 7371, which imposes a tax on electric light, power and water works in towns of over 10,000 population, he says:

"When this statute was enacted the Legislature exempted the smaller cities largely for the reason that these plants were owned by local men and operated in some instances by public spirited citizens at a loss. These plants are now largely owned by gi-gantic corporations and there is no just reason why they should not contribute to the support of the State Government." He recommends that the law be amended to include cities of 2,500 population and over.

His recommendations for the revision of the tax laws have brought in many letters from legislators promising support, and his desk was piled high, when he returned from a trip up State this morning, with letters of commendation from the general public.

Senator J. J. Strickland writes from Palestine as follows: "I have just finished reading your report and recommendations to the Governor. I don't know when I have read anything with as much interest. I am sure that many of your ideas will be enacted by the Legislature. If this Legislature does not correct some of the evils that now exist the matter should be carried to the people two years hence."

R. E. Bertram, representative from the Thirty-fourth District, has written that he has prepared a bill for the amendment to the gross receipts law along the lines suggested in the report, and promises support for any measure that will provide better equalization of taxation.

Representatives W. O. Wright of the One Hundredth and J. C. Marshall of the One Hundred and Third Districts, both newly elected, arrived in Austin today and told the writer that they are in favor of legislation to equalize taxation. They were both particularly interested in securing some legislation that will compel certain counties now delinquent, to contribute at least as much in taxes to the State as they draw back in school money.

PLAN SALVATION ARMY MEMORIALS TO SOLDIERS

Brigadier George Wood, chief divisional officer of the Salvation Army, with headquarters in Dallas has announced that the Salvation Army proposes to erect buildings in the chief centers of the country as memorials to soldiers who have fought in France and soldiers who have died in the cause of liberty.

"We propose to make these buildings community centers and throw them open to all kinds of meetings," Brigadier Wood said. "There will be rooms for recreational games, correspondence, study, reading and small group meetings."

"We expect to form a committee in each city and county to procure subscriptions for the erection of such buildings."

In connection with the war activities of the Salvation Army, Brigadier Wood said, a party was sent to France from this division, and also two-story huts were erected at Camp Bowie, Camp MacArthur, Camp Logan and Camp Travis. He pointed out that while many of the big men of the Salvation Army have given their services entirely to war work, the work at home has not been allowed to suffer and much good has been done here."

UNITED STATES AT TOP PLACE IN MUNITIONS PRODUCTION

Figures made public by the ordnance department of the inter-allied bureau of statistics show that in production of munitions in the last months of the war the United States was far ahead of Great Britain and France. Average monthly production of machine guns and machine rifles for July, August and September, 1918, in the United States was 27,126, against 10,947 for Great Britain and 12,126 for France. In the same period the United States produced monthly an average of 233,562 rifles, against 112,821 for Great Britain and 40,522 for France. Small arms ammunition production in the United States was 277,984,000 rounds in France 139,845,000 and in Great Britain 259,769,000.

USEFULNESS!

It covers a broad, unlimited field. Kick a banana peel from the sidewalk and it is a useful deed, for by doing this you help some one that is to follow you, you remove a menace to others walking the same path, you protect your less observant fellows.

On the other hand the greatest deeds of history are deeds of usefulness alone. Mighty constructive legislation, the big fight for right, the bringing together of the world's powers to soothe a bleeding earth and form a perpetual league for peace. These are deeds of greatest usefulness.

Any activity for the welfare of mankind is usefulness. It does not have to be great; it may be small, but it is, nevertheless, valuable. It is said that the lives of thousands upon thousands in New York City are in the hands of fifty dusky laborers, track walkers on the underground railways. With their lanterns they walk the underground passages for hours each day, examining every foot of track as they go and making safe the handling of traffic for the world's greatest metropolis. That is usefulness.

The man who never does anything worth while is a continual drag on the civilized world. The fellow who does not make his life useful is never satisfied with himself, neither are others satisfied with him. He dies without comfort.

All persons are not designed to be greatly useful, but every one with a sane mind can make his life a useful one and the world will profit by it.

It makes no difference where you are or what you do, every day will bring forth its opportunities. Make every day a useful one, then watch the results on yourself. Usefulness is happiness, genuine happiness.

A timely move in Texas is the organization, now under way, of the Texas Association of Commerce. This statewide commercial organization is designed to be a complete representative body of Texas, pledged to the upbuilding of the Lone Star State. Coming at the beginning of a big reconstruction period now ahead of us, the probabilities are that a powerful organization, reaching out into every nook and corner of our State, wholeheartedly supported, and pulling for bigger development of Texas, will be able to accomplish great things for our state. A big lesson of the war is cooperation. Every city of any size has a commercial organization working for the commercial development of its community. Place these side by side with firms and individuals within the state, and let them concentrate their efforts for "big game." The results are bound to be gratifying.

Can thinking be monopolized by law? This is the novel proposition confronting attorney involved in the case of Sidney A. Tapp against Billy Sunday, famous evangelist. Tapp, a writer who lives in Kansas City, Mo., charges that Sunday has literally "stolen" his thoughts. His books are copyrighted and Tapp is making a determined attempt to extract $100,000 from the famous evangelist for appropriating matter from his literary outputs. "It is a novel proposition," declares Billy's attorneys, "that the copyright law grants a monopoly on thinking." They contend that Sunday has the right to think and speak in his own words, notwithstanding what the other fellow has copyrighted. Regardless of who is right, we say that this is pretty good proof that a fellow must "watch his step" these days.

Red Cross workers are needed in Cameron. The war has ended but the good work of helping the helpless is in full sway. Belgian and French women and small children, whose husbands and fathers made the supreme sacrifice for us, are shivering in the cold, without homes and with little food. With the coming of peace, misery and need are growing in these bleeding countries. Those who will continue in the Red Cross work now are the unquestioned patriots. It is reported that last week the number of workers in Cameron was very small. This is not befitting of Cameron people. Make a sacrifice and help. Your sacrifice will be as a drop in the ocean by the side of the sacrifices of those you will be helping.

Nationwide prohibition, according to latest indications, will most likely be endorsed by the necessary number of states to make it a federal law. Within the last week the official report from Washington shows that nine states have ratified the amendment, making a total number of twenty-four states. The "drys" declare that an additional twelve, enough to make the dry amendment a law, will take a similar step this week. The states that ratified the prohibition amendment last week are: Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Maine, Michigan, Ohio and Tennessee.

An Old Fogey's Philosophy.

Life is a curious something. A person comes into this world without his own consent and is forced to leave it against his will. In the meantime he goes through the long period of hard knocks and flashing. When he has gained just about enough experience to make him good for something he is taken away, and he realizes that all his flighty hopes are blasted before they are formed. After all, what's the use?

Changes in the make-up of the army of occupation, announced by General March last Saturday, show that the 90th Division has been released and will not be a part of the army to be retained in Europe. The announcement shows that the 89th Division was also taken from the occupation army, while the 7th Division has been added. The army of occupation is now composed of eleven divisions overseas.

It seems that all of the powerful heads of the world peace conference want a league of nations to enforce peace. Clemenceau, who was thought to be opposed to such a step, has announced that he will propose it as a primary consideration at the conference.

In jail, the admitted forger of $500,000 worth of bonds, one of Chicago's foremost brokers who has surrendered to the authorities of that city last week said, "I am the happiest man in Chicago." - Maybe he is. Maybe he isn't. If he is, maybe he'll get over it soon.

We notice that French, in the past the universal language for peace conferences, has given away to English, the first time in history, in the present world conference. We predict that it will not be the last time. The English language is gaining enormous popularity for several reasons.

Pope Benedict has announced from the Vatican that "the twentieth century ought to be called Wilson's Century." He compares our president to Saint Paul, "the sole great mind the war has revealed."

Hunger prompts revolution, according to the old sages. The allies are doing well to "erect a barrier of food" against bolshevism, to prevent its spread.

GREGORY RESIGNS AS ATTORNEY GENERAL

In Charge of Law Enforcement and Department of Justice, He Did Valuable Work During War.

The resignation of Thomas Watt Gregory of Austin as Attorney General of the United States, after six years' connection with the Department of Justice, has been accepted by President Wilson, to become effective March 4. The Attorney General announced that he had formulated no definite plans for the future, saying that he expected to return to his practice of law as soon as he is relieved. The resignation makes the fifth change in President Wilson's Cabinet, Secretary of State Bryan, Secretary of War Garrison and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, retiring to private life.

Attorney General McReynolds, whom Mr. Gregory succeeded, was appointed to the supreme bench. For the first year and a half of his service Mr. Gregory was special assistant to Attorney General McReynolds.

in charge of the Government's prosecution of the suit against the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, alleging maintenance of transportation monopoly in New England. After a brief trial, a judgment was obtained by agreement that sustained the Government's contention.

From the standpoint of national administration, Mr. Gregory as attorney general is holding the highest position ever conferred upon a citizen of Texas. He ranks fourth next to the President, the first being the Secretary of State, next in order being the Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of War and Attorney General.

Two years ago, following the election of President Wilson for a second term, Mr. Gregory sought to retire from public life. It is understood that the President then expressed the hope that the members of his Cabinet, who had been so instrumental in making his administration a success, would remain to the end that the policies of the administration could completely be carried out. At the President's solicitation, Mr. Gregory withdrew for a temporary period his desire to resign.

USEFULNESS!

It covers a broad, unlimited field. Kick a banana peel from the sidewalk and it is a useful deed, for by doing this you help some one that is to follow you, you remove a menace to others walking the same path, you protect your less observant fellows.

On the other hand the greatest deeds of history are deeds of usefulness alone. Mighty constructive legislation, the big fight for right, the bringing together of the world's powers to soothe a bleeding earth and form a perpetual league for peace. These are deeds of greatest usefulness.

Any activity for the welfare of mankind is usefulness. It does not have to be great; it may be small, but it is, nevertheless, valuable. It is said that the lives of thousands upon thousands in New York City are in the hands of fifty dusky laborers, track walkers on the underground railways. With their lanterns they walk the underground passages for hours each day, examining every foot of track as they go and making safe the handling of traffic for the world's greatest metropolis. That is usefulness.

The man who never does anything worth while is a continual drag on the civilized world. The fellow who does not make his life useful, is never satisfied with himself, neither are others satisfied with him. He dies without comfort.

All persons are not designed to be greatly useful, but every one with a sane mind can make his life a useful one and the world will profit by it.

It makes no difference where you are or what you do, every day will bring forth its opportunities. Make every day a useful one, then watch the results on yourself. Usefulness is happiness, genuine happiness.

A timely move in Texas is the organization, now under way, of the Texas Association of Commerce. This statewide commercial organization is designed to be a complete representative body of Texas, pledged to the upbuilding of the Lone Star State. Coming at the beginning of a big reconstruction period now ahead of us, the probabilities are that a powerful organization, reaching out into every nook and corner of our State, wholeheartedly supported, and pulling for bigger development of Texas, will be able to accomplish great things for our state. A big lesson of the war is cooperation. Every city of any size has a commercial organization working for the commercial development of its community. Place these side by side with firms and individuals within the state, and let them concentrate their efforts for "big game." The results are bound to be gratifying.

Can thinking be monopolized by law? This is the novel proposition confronting attorney involved in the case of Sidney A. Tapp against Billy Sunday, famous evangelist. Tapp, a writer who lives in Kansas City, Mo., charges that Sunday has literally "stolen" his thoughts. His books are copyrighted and Tapp is making a determined attempt to extract $100,000 from the famous evangelist for appropriating matter from his literary outputs. "It is a novel proposition," declares Billy's attorneys, "that the copyright law grants a monopoly on thinking." They contend that Sunday has the right to think and speak in his own words, notwithstanding what the other fellow has copyrighted. Regardless of who is right, we say that this is pretty good proof that a fellow must "watch his step" these days.

Red Cross workers are needed in Cameron. The war has ended but the good work of helping the helpless is in full sway. Belgian and French women and small children, whose husbands and fathers made the supreme sacrifice for us, are shivering in the cold, without homes and with little food. With the coming of peace, misery and need are growing in these bleeding countries. Those who will continue in the Red Cross work now are the unquestioned patriots. It is reported that last week the number of workers in Cameron was very small. This is not befitting of Cameron people. Make a sacrifice and help. Your sacrifice will be as a drop in the ocean by the side of the sacrifices of those you will be helping.

Nationwide prohibition, according to latest indications, will most likely be endorsed by the necessary number of states to make it a federal law. Within the last week the official report from Washington shows that nine states have ratified the amendment, making a total number of twenty-four states. The "drys" declare that an additional twelve, enough to make the dry amendment a law, will take a similar step this week. The states that ratified the prohibition amendment last week are: Arkansas, Colorado, Idaho, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Maine, Michigan, Ohio and Tennessee.

An Old Foggy's Philosophy.

Life is a curious something. A person comes into this world without his own consent and is forced to leave it against his will. In the meantime he goes through a long period of hard knocks and flashing. When he has gained just about enough experience to make him good for something he is taken away, and he realizes that all his flighty hopes are blasted before they are formed. After all, what's the use?

The announcement shows that the 89th Division was also taken from the occupation army, while the 7th Division has been added. The army of occupation is now composed of eleven divisions overseas.

SCHOOL IN NEED OF ABLE TEACHERS

State Superintendent Urges That All Teachers Freed From Army Take Up Work.

Miss Annie Webb Blanton, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, states that many requests for the employment of men, formerly engaged in teaching, who are returning from the army or war work service, have been received by the State department of education. In discussing this matter she adds: "It is of the utmost importance to the schools that these men should not be lost to the teaching profession through absorption into other lines of work. Their training, as a rule, is superior to that of any new teaching forces obtainable, their experiences in the service have been of a nature to develop character and intellect, and, furthermore, the interests of the child demand that our schools should have both men and women teachers."

"I earnestly request all superintendents, principals or boards of trustees, wherever it may be possible, to give positions to worthy young men returning from the service of their country. The State department of education will gladly aid in this work. Former soldiers are invited to file with the department applications for employment, and those having vacancies to be filled, are requested to notify the State Superintendent that this assistance may be rendered to many who left good positions to enter the army. Three positions in the department of education have been given to those returning from war work and two to wives of soldiers. Temporary clerical work has also been assigned to former soldiers."

County Superintendent Jas. F. Chadwick, in commenting on the above from Miss Blanton, stated to The Herald that a number of schools in Milam county were suffering from efficient teachers and in more than one instance, declared Mr. Chadwick, there is no teacher available at all and children are forced to remain

Planting Seed.
I have about 20 tons of seed that I have kept for planting which are from cotton raised from Storey Myrick Mebane seed that were direct from Lockhart in 1917, and gin records show a lint per cent from them of from 35% to 40 9-10 per cent. These seed were saved pure as we used every care in handling them at the gins, the rolls being run out each time before these seed were caught. I will sell these seed while they last at $2.25 per bushel.

PERUNA A WONDERFUL MEDICINE

Rundown and Unable to Work

"I am pleased to recommend Peruna as it was beneficial in restoring my health when I was all run down from overwork and nervous worry and was unable to take up my regular work. A friend recommended Peruna and said he was sure that it would restore my strength. I soon found that I was getting better and in a little over two months I was able to resume my duties with renewed vigor and strength. It certainly is a wonderful medicine to vitalize the system."

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Little River Lodge, No. 397, A. F. & A. M.

We, your committee, appointed to draft suitable resolutions to the memory of our departed brother, J. J. Anderson, beg leave to report as follows:

In as much as it has pleased Him who holds our breath in the hollow of his hand, to call from our midst, an other member of our craft, one who was faithful in his attendance upon our meetings, in his duty, and companionable in his nature and yet seemed to have many days yet among us, and yet whose passing was so sudden as to shock his most intimate friends, and to warn us we should always be ready to answer the summons when the mallet of death is sounded;

Therefore, be it resolved:
1st. That in the death of brother Anderson our lodge has lost a valued member, the community a useful citizen who was loyal and helpful to his fellow men, and his wife a faithful husband and his children a loving parent;

2nd. That we cherish his memory, and assure his widow and children of our sympathy in this sad dispensation of Divine Providence;

3rd. That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the lodge, and a copy furnished the family of deceased.

Fraternally submitted,

To Our Friends and Customers:

There have been newspaper rumors that the 1919 model Ford Cars would have Starters as their regular equipment, but until today we have had no authoritative information on the subject.

For your information, we are giving you below an Excerpt from a Circular Letter from the Ford Motor Co. of Houston, under date, Jan. 11 to us as Ford Dealers:

"Some dealers are having to Combat the Rumor that there will be a change in prices and changes in some of the models; We have absolutely no information to the effect that there will be any change either in prices or models, except that closed jobs will be equipped with starters LATER and there will be an additional charge of approximately $75.00 and there will be a few closed jobs that will come out within the next few weeks NOT EQUIPPED with Starters."

We are giving you this information in order that those who are contemplating placing their order, but who are deferring the matter in the hope of getting one with a starter at the same price as the one not equipped with a starter.

We would therefore suggest that you place your order now and if we find you can get one with a starter before time delivery of your car, we can change Specifications.

We are also informed that shipments will be speeded to something near normal for January and a little later will reach normal movement.

Had Is Ever Occurred To You.
You do just four things: You think, you remember, you imagine, you act. When you learn to think better, remember better, imagine better or act better, you increase your efficiency, and, therefore, your income. Perhaps you are very successful now, but of how much benefit will a practical education be to you. You will agree with us that to violate a part of the laws of business means partial failure, and violate all the laws means complete failure. You are also aware that to observe part of the laws of business means partial success, and to observe all the laws means complete success. Our aim is to help you observe a higher per cent of the laws of business success. The late Prof. James of Harvard declares that the average man uses only ten per cent of his brain power. Suppose you are twice as capable as the average man? Even that would mean you are only twenty per cent of your maximum possibilities. The purpose of our course is to produce a greater efficiency with less effort. Did you ever stop to think that eighty-five per cent of the men of this country are earning only $18 per week or less? That ninety-two per cent fail in business between the ages of 40 and 50? That ninety-five per cent have no money at the age of 60? We have been very successful in getting men out of the eighty-five, the ninety-two and the ninety-five per cent class. Let us increase your salary. We have been marvelously successful in raising salaries, as is conclusively proven in our catalogue by the letters from former students. The business world wants thinkers and doers. There's a famine of high priced men today; there are thousands of men worth a thousand dollars a year, but only a few worth ten thousand a year. Be the latter kind of a man, you can if you will. We know that a man is worth only $2.00 a day from the chin down, selling muscle, but as high as a hundred thousand dollars a year from the chin up, selling brains. Be a chin upper and sell brains; but remember you must get them before you can sell them. Take our thorough practical course of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Cotton Classing, Business Administration and Finance and Telegraphy; learn how to think, to remember, to imagine and to act. We can teach you and will therefore greatly increase your usefulness throughout life.

Planting Corn That Will Grow.

Connecticut's experience last season shows the value of testing seed corn. Corn shows in that State in 1917 were unique in that a 50-ear germination test was made of each entry. These tests saved the State thousands of dollars, disclosing that much of the seed corn of the 1917 crop was very low in germinating qualities. A campaign was inaugurated for the testing of all corn to be used for the 1918 crop. The work in many places was taken up through the schools, and teachers and pupils were taught to make tests. No excuse was left for any farmer to plant immature corn. In one county 700 samples showed only 30 per cent germinating power, and in another county only 10 per cent of the corn tested was fit for planting. The farm bureau saved the day by carrying on so vigorous a campaign that all corn fit for planting was made available for home use of sale. In addition to supplying the States' needs for good seed corn, the farm bureau were able to get together six car loads of tested corn for shipment to North Dakota and Wisconsin, where also the situation was serious. This corn brought the farmers of Connecticut $15,000.

LARGEST MATRICULATION IN HISTORY OF UNIVERSITY

The present session of the University of Texas shows the largest matriculation in the history of that institution, a total of 2576 students having registered up to January 7. It is expected that the total registrations will reach 2,600. The closest former record was 2,550 students at the opening of the winter term in 1917. On the corresponding date of last year the total number of students registered was 1,882, showing an increase for this year over last at this date of 694 students.

Syrup Keeps Down Food Costs

When everything now is going sky-high and nearly all articles of food have increased as much as 50%, it is a good thing to consider using more of a food which will be nutritious and healthy and at the same time not cost so much. Syrup is one of these few foods. Not only is it healthy but it furnishes to the body the fuel needed to keep it going.

Dunbar's Syrup

Dunbar's King Komus Syrup is the syrup for you to buy. It is made in Louisiana right where the sugar cane grows, and the syrup has the flavor of the cane itself. It is pure and unadulterated. It is put up in a model factory in sanitary cans. Because Dunbar's King Komus is pure you get full food value. It is, therefore, the cheapest in the end. Eat more Dunbar's King Komus Syrup and keep down the cost of living. Ask Your Grocer.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

Organization of the Cameron High School Orchestra is now practically complete. All members are hard at practice and after a few more practices it is certain, according to Prof. J. N. Crawford, that the Cam-Hi Orchestra will be much above the ordinary. Prof. Crawford has secured some new music and before long expects to make an announcement for a concert.

The personnel of the orchestra is as follows:

Violins—Olive Henderson, Katy Cone, Elliott Atkinson, Mildred Chambers, Lucy Brock, Agnes Henderson, Harley McGregor, Billy Clark, May Kennon, Eugene Green and Pauline Green.

Piano—Miss Madie Weaver.

Clarinets—Will Parma, Juanita Caldwell, Lee Howell, Gordon Baskin, Raymond Thompson, Eber Flinn.

Drum—Baby Hendrickson and Eugene Matula.

The above instrumentation is composed entirely of school students. The purpose of the orchestra is to have it a school affair. However, there are a few musicians in town whom Mr. Crawford is expecting to assist. The instructor at a recent meeting stressed the importance of punctuality of attendance at all rehearsals, declaring that absence from rehearsal without a legitimate excuse would almost automatically sever one's relation with the orchestra. The members are viewing the organization as a business enterprise and are working on business principles. There is no expense to members except for the procuring of their instruments and the necessary amount of music.

Cam-Hi's first basket ball game of the season is scheduled for Friday afternoon when Ben Arnold is expected to bring its best athletes to Cameron for the mighty clash on the local high school courts. The contest will be a double-header, both boys' and girls' teams being matched with corresponding make-ups of the visitors. Coach Crawford announces that his men have developed teamwork and team spirit. Both boys and girls in the local high school have been working hard, and expect to put up a hard fight.

Though early in the season the Cam-Hi track team prospects have donned their scanty clothes and started in on a long period of training. Their coach is Prof. J. N. Crawford. From the spirit of enthusiasm that the track boys are showing it is thought that good results are bound to come about. Three of the leading prospective components of the team, as announced by Prof. Crawford, are Cecil Barmore, L. J. Epperson and Lee Howell.

Superintendent Kidd announces that next week every endeavor will be put forth for standard work all the week. Thursday is visitors' day, when all teachers from other schools will be invited to attend the local high school and review its work. For this occasion, Dr. Sackett, professor of psychology, Department of Education, University of Texas, has been invited to be a guest at the high school.

Since the holidays about $50 worth of new apparatus has been installed in the physics and chemical laboratories at the Cameron High School. "The need for good laboratories in high schools is increasing very rapidly with the swift advance of science throughout the modern world. An endeavor is going to be made to equip our laboratories so that they will be second to none," remarked Prof. J. N. Crawford Wednesday.

Truett Blaylock at Home.

Not much preaching for Rev. B. B. Blaylock last Monday night. Yes, there was a revival on, he was in hearty shape, in town, and actually went up to the church, but—Fact is, you couldn't have held him in that church for any reasonable amount of money. He just wouldn't stay.

Well, here's the story. You see, Brother Blaylock intended to stay through the preaching, he had settled down snugly in his seat, and was "all set" for the entire performance. Just then some one came up to him and whispered in his ear, "Did you know that Truett has come?" Blooey! Goodbye preaching. Truett Blaylock, his only son, had actually come home after being away for nearly two years as a young warrior for Uncle Sam. Brother Blaylock's trip from the Methodist church to his home required 49 seconds. Then imagine the happy reunion.

Truett joined the navy upon Uncle Sam's entrance into the war and was called out in April, 1917. He was sent to Norfolk, Virginia, and from there went to sea on the ship "Montana." Later he was transferred to the "Matocha." Truett has been across the Atlantic twelve times, helped fire the shot that sent down a submarine, and shortly after landing at Norfolk last week, he obtained a thirty day furlough, the first one he had ever received. He arrived in Cameron on the S. A. & A. P. last Monday night.

BRANCHVILLE CITIZENS ARE AFTER GOOD ROADS

Branchville citizens have circulated a petition for a bond issue in that precinct to the amount of $20,000. In keeping with the progress of the times the Branchville people have decided that they too must have good roads. Foremost among the improvements contemplated by the people of this community is the graveling of approximately nine miles of road between Harrol's Creek bridge and Port Sullivan bridge on the Brazos.

BANK STATEMENTS MAKE GOOD FINANCIAL SHOWING

Unquestionable evidence that Cameron with the surrounding communities is in the midst of a period of marked prosperity is shown in the statements of the three banks of this city to be found in this issue of The Herald.

Eliminating minor details we find that the total deposits for the three banks, as shown by the statements which are dated December 31, is $1,178,187.16. The total banking resources of Cameron's banks, according to these statements, is over two million dollars, the exact figures being $2,051,378.11.

This too with the best winter season in the ground of fifteen years looks like unbounded prosperity for old Milam.

Buy yourself a home and make your last move. I can sell you an improved farm on easy pay plan, and give you possession for another year. Quick action on your part as the year is drawing to a close.

LIPSITZ REPORT ON WAR SAVING WORK

Total In Cash And Pledges Secured Is $81,614,124 of $91,484,800 Quota.

Louis Lipsitz, who recently resigned as Director of War Savings in Texas, has filed a detailed report of the work of his department for the year just closed. The report was sent to the Secretary of the Treasury and reads in part:

"Texas was asked to save and invest $91,484,800 in United States Government war savings stamps, which is more than that of twelve other states combined, and the fifth largest quota in the Union. This task was proportionately more difficult for Texas than for any other State because of our tremendous area, with only 888,405 of our population in cities and the balance of 77 per cent scattered over a territory as large as the Republic of France; there being twenty-two counties with a population of less than one person per square mile; Texas having 735,483 negroes and a large Mexican population.

"Texas' greatest handicap, however, and the one thing that made it impossible to reach the high mark set, is that a three years' drouth culminated in 1918. This drouth, now happily broken, covered 129 of the 252 counties and territories with a war savings quota of $37,291,000. Despite the most calamitous conditions in the history of the State, many of these counties completed their quotas, and in every portion of the territory most heroic and patriotic efforts were made to answer the call of our Government.

"There are 151 counties, each with a chairman in general charge; a woman chairman directing women's work, and a complete staff of workers who have devoted themselves intensively to the work throughout the year; a total of 18,875 active volunteer workers, with 26 paid full time workers. These counties have raised $63,129, which they have used for the expense of the campaign. Nothing has been allowed or paid to any county organization by the Government for the carrying on of the work.

"Of the 1,021 periodicals published in Texas practically every one has given most generously of its space. They have printed 37,890 columns of reading matter which we have checked, and many thousands of columns of editorials and local news on war savings of which we have kept no record. There has been secured and published at cost by the newspapers of Texas 4,627 full pages of advertising. Of the 56,950 issues of Texas periodicals, during the year none has appeared without something on war savings.

"We have carried the campaign of education to 4,574,240 Texans, and 1,424,330 people are investors in war savings stamps. 30 per cent of the entire population, 43 per cent of the white population and 1,286,000 adults which is 78 per cent of the adults. We have record of 138,330 children only as investors, but through our war savings societies we think the children have been reached most thoroughly and effectively.

"We have established 14,175 agencies, and there are 18,686 places where stamps are sold and literature distributed.

"Our war savings societies number 10,041, with 440,000 members, of which 368,000 are active, having saved $11,443,408, or $34 per person.

"Our gross sales as so far tabulated are $60,014,124. We have secured $21,600,00 in pledges, which will be paid during 1919; our total in cash and pledges being $81,614,124, as against our quota of $91,484,800, or 89.21 per cent, or $17.84 per capita.

"We are very pleased that, notwithstanding the drouth and cotton-selling conditions prevailing during the fall season, the sales for Texas exceeded the average per capita sales for the United States."

SON OF MILAM GAVE LIFE FOR CAUSE OF FREEDOM

George L. Wright, formerly of Milam county where he was born, died in France on last December 3rd of labor pneumonia in the service of his country, according to news lately received by his relatives, Mr. Warren H. Wright and family of Orange, Tex. Wright was born near Maysfield in 1895. Later his parents became residents of Orange, Texas. After the outbreak of war with Germany young Wright joined the colors, and had been in France five months at the time of his death.

Deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Wright of Orange, two sisters of Orange, and three brothers. One brother is in France, another a resident of Maysfield.

Max Plaster Returns Home.

Max Plaster, an old Cameron boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Plaster of this city, returned to his home Wednesday with a discharge from the U. S. Naval Aviation Service. Max has been flying at Miami, Fla., for several weeks, and comes to Cameron with the flyer's wings. He also supports the badges of a qualified marksman and sharp-shooter.

Max joined the navy on March 8, 1918, and three weeks later was called out and sent to Newport, R. I., for training. He then took up signal work and transferred to Norfolk, Va., and from there into Boston Technology as a student aviator in the latter part of last August. Finishing the ground course Plaster went to the flying school above designated. A short time ago Max was at home on furlough, and upon his return immediately applied for discharge from the service. Pending discharge he was sent to New Orleans last week with forty other students and received his discharge last Monday at New Orleans.

Sunrise Breakfast.

The Physic Class of the Cameron High School enjoyed a sunrise breakfast last Thursday morning.

About twenty young people walked out to the Santa Fe bridge to enjoy this mixture of work and play. Mr. Crawford, the instructor of the class goes on the principle that too much work and too play makes both Jacks and Jills dull and so he conceived this unique idea of teaching his class the velocity of sound in the open.

While the young folks had their practice lesson—howling in the hollows—Misses Rose and Cain prepared most appetizing breakfast of coffee, eggs, bacon and toast. Needless to say no longer time was required to teach these young Americans the velocity of sound when breakfast was announced.

Planting Seed and Feed For 1919

In addition to our stock of Plantation Supplies of Groceries, Clothes, Shoes, etc; we have added a line of planting seed of good varieties such as are required in this section. Being on the railroad and having our own switch we do not have to pay drayage and up-town rents, and we give the farmers the advantage of this saving.

We have now ready for sale about 2000 bushels of choice Feterita, Maize and Sorghum seed which we are offering at $4.50 in hundred pound lots. We also have bought 5000 bales of clean bright oat straw, which was never rained on after being cut, which we offer at $20.00 per ton. LIPSITZ REPORT ON WAR SAVING WORK

Total In Cash And Pledges Secured
Is $81,614,124 of $91,484,800
Quota.

Louis Lipsitz, who recently resigned as Director of War Savings in Texas, has filed a detailed report of the work of his department for the year just closed. The report was sent to the Secretary of the Treasury and reads in part:

"Texas was asked to save and invest $91,484,800 in United States Government war savings stamps, which is more than that of twelve other states combined, and the fifth largest quota in the Union. This task was proportionately more difficult for Texas than for any other State because of our tremendous area, with only 888,405 of our population in cities and the balance of 77 per cent scattered over a territory as large as the Republic of France; there being twenty-two counties with a population of less than one person per square mile; Texas having 735,483 negroes and a large Mexican population.

"Texas' greatest handicap, however, and the one thing that made it impossible to reach the high mark set, is that a three years' drouth culminated in 1918. This drouth, now happily broken, covered 129 of the 252 counties and territories with a war savings quota of $37,291,000. Despite the most calamitous conditions in the history of the State, many of these counties completed their quotas, and in every portion of the territory most heroic and patriotic efforts were made to answer the call of our Government.

"There are 151 counties, each with a chairman in general charge; a woman chairman directing women's work, and a complete staff of workers who have devoted themselves intensively to the work throughout the year; a total of 18,875 active volunteer workers, with 26 paid full time workers. These counties have raised $63,139, which they have used for the expense of the campaign. Nothing has been allowed or paid to any county organization by the Government for the carrying on of the work.

"Of the 1,021 periodicals published in Texas practically every one has given most generously of its space. They have printed 37,890 columns of reading matter which we have checked, and many thousands of columns of editorials and local news on war savings of which we have kept no record. There has been secured and published at cost by the newspapers of Texas 4,627 full pages of advertising. Of the 56,950 issues of Texas periodicals, during the year none has appeared without something on war savings.

"We have carried the campaign of education to 4,574,240 Texans, and 1,424,330 people are investors in war savings stamps. 30 per cent of the entire population, 43 per cent of the white population and 1,286,000 adults which is 78 per cent of the adults. We have record of 138,330 children only as investors, but through our war savings societies we think the children have been reached most thoroughly and effectively.

"We have established 14,175 agencies, and there are 18,686 places where stamps are sold and literature distributed.

"Our war savings societies number 10,041, with 440,000 members, of which 368,000 are active, having saved $11,443,408, or $34 per person.

"Our gross sales as so far tabulated are $60,014,124. We have secured $21,600,00 in pledges, which will be paid during 1919; our total in cash and pledges being $81,614,124, as against our quota of $91,484,800, or 89.21 per cent, or $17.84 per capita.

"We are very pleased that, notwithstanding the drouth and cotton-selling conditions prevailing during the fall season, the sales for Texas exceeded the average per capita sales for the United States."

SON OF MILAM GAVE LIFE FOR CAUSE OF FREEDOM

George L. Wright, formerly of Milam county where he was born, died in France on last December 3rd of labor pneumonia in the service of his country, according to news lately received by his relatives, Mr. Warren H. Wright and family of Orange, Tex. Wright was born near Maysfield in 1895. Later his parents became residents of Orange, Texas. After the outbreak of war with Germany young Wright joined the colors, and had been in France five months at the time of his death.

Deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Wright of Orange, two sisters of Orange, and three brothers. One brother is in France, another a resident of Maysfield.

Max Plaster Returns Home.

Max Plaster, an old Cameron boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Plaster of this city, returned to his home Wednesday with a discharge from the U. S. Naval Aviation Service. Max has been flying at Miami, Fla., for several weeks, and comes to Cameron with the flyer's wings. He also supports the badges of a qualified marksman and sharp-shooter.

Max joined the navy on March 8, 1918, and three weeks later was called out and sent to Newport, R. I., for training. He then took up signal work and transferred to Norfolk, Va., and from there into Boston Technology as a student aviator in the latter part of last August. Finishing the ground course Plaster went to the flying school above designated. A short time ago Max was at home on furlough, and upon his return immediately applied for discharge from the service. Pending discharge he was sent to New Orleans last week with forty other students and received his discharge last Monday at New Orleans.

Sunrise Breakfast.

The Physic Class of the Cameron High School enjoyed a sunrise breakfast last Thursday morning.

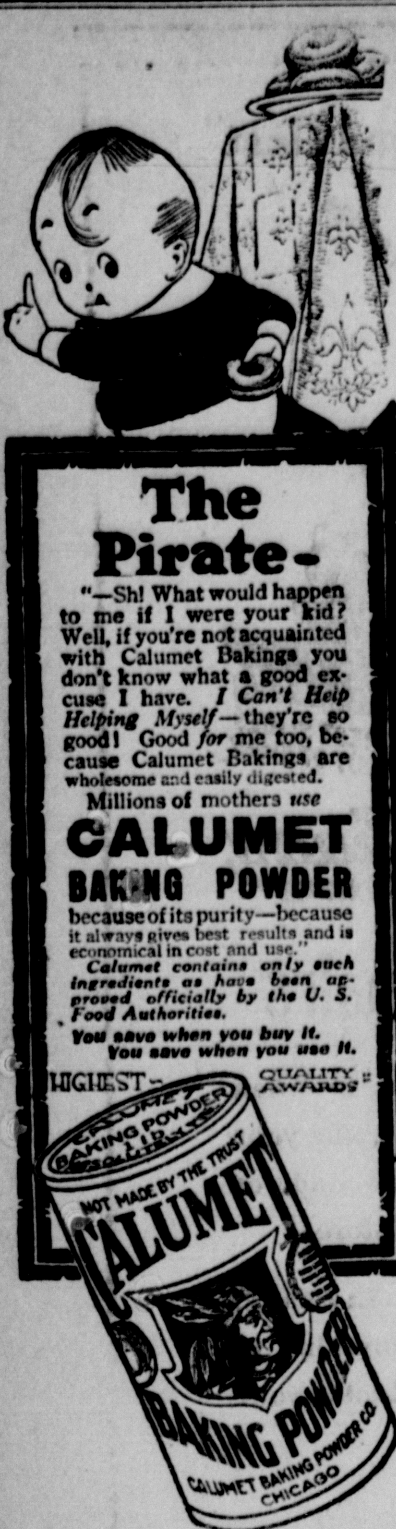

About twenty young people walked out to the Santa Fe bridge to enjoy this mixture of work and play. Mr. Crawford, the instructor of the class goes on the principle that so much work and so play makes both Jacks and Jills dull and so he conceived this unique idea of teaching his class the velocity of sound in the open.

While the young folks had their practice lesson—hollowing in the hollows—Misses Rose and Cain prepared a most appetizing breakfast of coffee, eggs, bacon and toast. Needless to say no longer time was required to teach these young Americans the velocity of sound when breakfast was announced.

FROM DR. LOUDEN ABOUT DIPPING CATTLE

All tick infested or exposed cattle will have to be driven to the nearest dipping vat, according to announcement received from the New Live Stock Sanitary Commission last week.

The tick eradication campaign in Milam County, under the direction of Dr. Loudon, is taking definite steps to give the move in this section a good start. The announcement says:

"Therefore, if a community fails to build a vat they will be required to drive their cattle to some other community where facilities are available." Dr. Loudon advises that every community construct its own dipping vat, so that the people of that community will not be required to go to the inconvenience of driving their cattle to more distant places to have them dipped.

Notice Farmers

I have just received a car of Cotton Seed from Storey Myrick of Lockhart. These seed are guaranteed pure Mebane Seed. Mr. Myrick buys his seed from Mr. A. D. Mebane and plants his 5,000 acres farm every year and gins only on his own gin. I planted the greater portion of my crop out of seed bought of Mr. Myrick last year and my very high lint per cent as shown by the gin book, run from thirty-five and one-half to forty and nine tenths per cent lint. I will sell 500 bushels of these seed and will plant the balance myself. These seed are sacked in three bushel sacks with Storey Myrick's guarantee on them.

Story Telling For Patriotism. (By Carolyn Sherwin Bailey.)

Patriotism Through Play.

Every child loves the toys that have to do with soldiering, loves to watch a parade and has an ideal of soldierhood in his heart as a form of patriotic service to be emulated and practised. The instinctive interests of childhood are guideposts for us in education. Find out what your child likes to play and likes to play with and then see how the interest can be used for the child's best development.

The toy sword should be a symbol of defense of the right and of protection of the weak rather than just a plaything that stimulates rough amusement. So, also, may the toy soldier, like the soldier of this story, represent for little children those qualities that combine in the true soldier for patriotic service.

The Travels of the Little Toy Soldier.

He was the largest and the best dressed and the bravest looking of all the toy soldiers in the toy shop. Some of the toy soldiers were made of paper and these tore easily if they tried to drill. Some of the toy soldiers were made of tin and these bent if they had an encounter. But this toy soldier, who stood head and shoulders above the others was made of wood. He had once been part of a great pine tree that stood in the forest, and his heart was as brave and true as the heart of the tree.

His trousers were painted green with yellow stripes and his jacket was painted red with gold buttons. He wore a painted blue cap upon the side of his head with a band that went under his chin, and he carried a wooden gun in one arm. He could stand alone, for his wooden legs were glued to a block of wood, and his eyes were black and shining and his mouth was painted in a smile.

When the Toy Soldier went from the toy shop to live in Gregory's house the little boy thought that he had never seen such a fine soldier in his life. He made him captain of all the soldier ninepins and guard of the toy train, and he took him to bed with him at night. Then, one day, James, who lived next door and was Gregory's neighbor, came over to play with Gregory.

"What a nice Toy Soldier!" James said.

"Yes, he's mine," Gregory said.

"May I play with him?" James asked.

"No, I said he was my Toy Soldier," Gregory answered.

"Then I'll take him," James said.

"I won't let you," Gregory said.

Then the two little boys began pulling the Toy Soldier to see which could get him away from the other, and the Toy Soldier did not like it at all. He was fond of a good battle but not of a quarrel. He decided that he would not stay in a house where there was a quarrelsome boy so he tumbled out of a window that was close by and fell, down, down to the street below.

The Toy Soldier had not lain long on the sidewalk when Harold passed by and picked him up.

"I wanted a toy soldier and here is the finest one I ever saw," Harold said, and he slipped the soldier inside his coat and started on, for he was going to school. The Toy Soldier lay close to Harold's watch that was tick, tick, ticking the time away, but Harold loitered and at last he stopped to play a game of marbles with another little boy whom he met. "I don't care if I am late for school," he said.

"Oho!" thought the Toy Soldier, and as the two little boys played he dropped out from under Harold's coat and into the gutter. When Harold reached school, late, the Toy Soldier was gone.

Joe found the Toy Soldier in the gutter and ran home with him to his mother.

"I have a Toy Soldier!" he said.

"How brave he looks," said Joe's mother.

All the rest of the day the Toy Soldier went about with Joe and listened to what he said and watched what he did.

"I can't go to the grocery's; I'm afraid of his dog."

"I can't put in that nail. I am afraid that the hammer will slip and hit my finger." This was what the Toy Soldier heard. Then it was Joe's bedtime and the Toy Soldier went upstairs with him to bed, but Joe cried all the way.

"I'm afraid of the dark!" he said. When Joe was asleep the Toy Soldier slipped out of his hand and fell into a scrap basket. He knew very well that he couldn't stay with a child who was a coward.

No one saw the Toy Soldier when the basket was emptied in the morning. He went with the scraps into a huge bag and then into a wagon, and then into a factory where men sorted the cloth to make it into paper. One of these men found the Toy Soldier and took him home to his little boy, who was lame and had to stay home alone all day.

"Has it been a good day, John?" his father asked.

"Oh, yes!" laughed John as he hugged the Toy Soldier.

"You have my supper ready just in time," his father said, watching the soup bubbling in a shining pot on the stove.

"And I cleaned a little and set the table," John said.

"Has your back hurt you very much today," asked his father.

"A little, but I don't mind that," John said.

"See how fine the Toy Soldier looks standing on the table!"

"Oho!" thought the Toy Soldier.

"Now I have found a place where I can stay. Here is another soldier, cheerful and willing to work and be brave!"

13,795 ATTENDED VARIOUS STATE MILITARY SCHOOLS

The Board of Control of the Army Schools which the University of Texas conducted has issued a statement in which it says that there was a total enrollment at the three schools of 13,795 students during the period they were in operation. The enrollment of the School of Military Aeronautics was 5,958; School of Automobile Mechanics, 5,106; Radio and Air Service School, 1,731. Arrangements had been made for increasing the attendance at the Radio and Air Service School to more than 5,000 men and to greatly enlarge the enrollment at the School of Automobile Mechanics. These plans were not put into effect, however, on account of the signing of the armistice. The above figures do not include the number of students who belonged to the Students Army Training Corps, Collegiate Section.

The Toy Soldier lay close to Harold's watch that was tick, tick, ticking the time away, but Harold loitered and at last he stopped to play a game of marbles with another little boy whom he met. "I don't care if I am late for school," he said.

"Oh!" thought the Toy Soldier, and as the two little boys played he dropped out from under Harold's coat and into the gutter. When Harold reached school, late, the Toy Soldier was gone.

Joe found the Toy Soldier in the gutter and ran home with him to his mother.

"I have a Toy Soldier!" he said.

"How brave he looks," said Joe's mother.

All the rest of the day the Toy Soldier went about with Joe and listened to what he said and watched what he did.

"I can't go to the grocer's; I'm afraid of his dog."

"I can't put in that nail. I am afraid that the hammer will slip and hit my finger." This was what the Toy Soldier heard. Then it was Joe's bedtime and the Toy Soldier went upstairs with him to bed, but Joe cried all the way.

"I'm afraid of the dark!" he said.

When Joe was asleep the Toy Soldier slipped out of his hand and fell into a scrap basket. He knew very well that he couldn't stay with a child who was a coward.

No one saw the Toy Soldier when the basket was emptied in the morning. He went with the scraps into a huge bag and then into a wagon, and then into a factory where men sorted the cloth to make it into paper. One of these men found the Toy Soldier and took him home to his little boy, who was lame and had to stay home alone all day.

"Has it been a good day, John?" his father asked.

"Oh, yes!" laughed John as he hugged the Toy Soldier.

"You have my supper ready just in time," his father said, watching the soup bubbling in a shining pot on the stove.

"And I cleaned a little and set the table," John said.

"Has your back hurt you very much today," asked his father.

"A little, but I don't mind that," John said. "See how fine the Toy Soldier looks standing on the table!"

"Oh!" thought the Toy Soldier, "now I have found a place where I can stay. Here is another soldier, cheerful and willing to work and be brave!"

13,795 ATTENDED VARIOUS
STATE MILITARY SCHOOLS

The Board of Control of the Army Schools which the University of Texas conducted has issued a statement in which it says that there was a total enrollment at the three schools of 13,795 students during the period they were in operation. The enrollment of the School of Military Aeronautics was 5,958; School of Automobile Mechanics, 5,106; Radio and Air Service School, 1,731. Arrangements had been made for increasing the attendance at the Radio and Air Service School to more than 5,000 men and to greatly enlarge the enrollment at the School of Automobile Mechanics. These plans were not put into effect, however, on account of the signing of the armistice. The above figures do not include the number of students who belonged to the Students' Army Training Corps, Collegiate Section.

France Decorates Seventeen American Aviators.

Seventeen American aviators were decorated at Coblenz, Germany, by the French for deeds of heroism, some of which were performed during the fighting around Chateau Thierry in July.

The recipients were from the 12th, 94th and 91st aero squadrons.

Grove's Tasteless chili Tonic

Pains, Dizzy Spells

Mrs. G. P. Cartwright, of Whitwell, Tenn., writes: "I suffered with bearing-down pains. . . The dizzy spells got so bad that when I would start to walk, I would just pretty nearly fall. Was very much run-down. I told my husband I thought Cardui would help me. . . He got me a bottle. . . It helped me so much that he got me another bottle. I got a whole lot better. The dizzy spells and the bearing-down pains . . . left me entirely."

If you are weak and run-down, or suffer from womanly pains,

TAKE

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial.
